

Northwestern Medicine Hospitals Hours for Restaurants and Shops

See below for a list of restaurants and shops in our hospitals, and their schedules in relation to COVID-19. We are working with our retail partners to ensure our staff and patients have as many food options as possible during this challenging time. Many of our retail partners are open, and if they are open and services have not changed, they are not listed. Please note that hours may change as we navigate this ever-changing environment. We will update as needed.
